GO TO DEMOCRATIC HEADQUARTERS THIS EVENING! TO

T Professor Totten, of William and Mary's College, has written a letter to the New York Mr. Sturgeon theu, after alluding to several Evening Post, rather favoring Thayer's scheme | charges of the Democrat, says:

Evening Post, rather favoring Thayer's scheme of colonizing Virginia. He says that Virginians wants more white labor; and that Virginians have no objections to the movement; and that the South, of Richmond, does not represent the sentiment of Virginia. Of course, Mr. Pryor pays his respects to Professor Totten, and maintains his former position.

Now, Thayer is an empty headed theorist, and his visionary project will never exist anywhere but in the noggins of such nineumpoops as himself. If there be worn-out lands in Virginia to redeem at a profit, they will be redeemed as soon as better investments cannot be made. If any one supposerthat a joint stock company of crafty, selfish, down-easters will sacrifice their dollars in such an enterprise, he is as green as agourd. As a financial operation, the scheme is only worthy of derision and contempt; it is as silly as it is impertinent. Indeed, its insolence is overshadowed by its sublime folly. Still regarding the project in its design, if any man of sense has meditated upon it, we don't won der that it provokes indignation. The self-conceit and self-righteousness of such a scheme is almost without example. One set of States assuming their superiority, and proposing to take upon themselves the regeneration of missionary society, to reform the institutions, The old Dominion should be grateful, indeed, industry, and the morals of their neighbors. The Old Dominion should be grateful, indeed, indeed, and the suppose of the constitution. I should feel invisely a suppose the project in its design, if any man of sense has meditated upon it, we don't won der that it provokes indignation. The self-conceit and self-righteousness of such a scheme is almost without example. One set of States assuming their superiority, and proposing to take upon themselves the regeneration of missionary society, to reform the institutions, The old Dominion should be grateful, indeed, indeed, in the supposition of missionary society, to reform the institutions, The old Dominion should be gratef missionary society, to reform the institutions, the industry, and the morals of their nelghbors.

The Old Dominion should be grateful, indeed, for the proffered charity of Thayer & Co. She has broad acres that are not worth cultivating, no doubt. She can put her means to better use than in such soil. She is too well off to engage just now in their redemption; and perhaps could afford to give them away to parties poor enough to cultivate them. She is rich enough enough to cultivate them. She is rich enough party to do it; for, take her property and divide it by the to do it; for, take her property and divide it by the number of her inhabitants, and the average the party, that therefore I have changed. The Old Dominion has a should fail to attend. name and fame in this Union, and in the world, that protects her from imputations that such a movement would cast upon her. She can afford to smile at the impertinence of her enemies. Virginia is the mother of States and statesmen. She was foremost in the revolution, and her influence has shaped the policy of this glorious Republic more than that of any other State. For a strict adherence to principle, she has no equal among the members of this Union, and her sons, wherever they have gone, have enjoyed an unusual share of popular favor. When you look at the meral character of the State, Virginia maintains her exalted position. We hear of no vast swindling operations, no can't find crimes and outrages enough to give a spice in their pages to the depraved appetite for Virginia. In view of all these facts, had not these pious philanthropists better devote their charities to the infected regions? Let them York newspaper, and they will find weekly some startling developments of crime and immorality that calls for missionary enterprise. Even the pulpit in New England needs the pious and reforming labors of Mr. Thayer & Co. The lawless and revolutionary spirit that has infected the following news from the Interior Depart the whole North, that is rampant in legislative ment: halls and in the pulpit, and that is quite inconsistent with the existence of civil government, ral have any means to bestow, here is a proper field for its employment. If the people of those regions foel at all concerned about their own before them. If Mr. Thayer will get up a somorals at home, they have a world of hard work ciety to mind one's own business, and pursue the object faithfully, he might do some good. We have no need of such a society in the South, we do begin to feel somewhat concerned about the augmenting tide of depravity that is spreadter than we ought to be; but we are somewhat better than our pious counsellors, that lecture us on virtue and morality; and if they will consent to look at home, and undertake to remove the festering corruption that is making such terrible inroads upon the very vitals of society; if they will turn their attention to the subject, we will try to get up a joint stock company in the South that will spare them some material aid in the much needed enterprise.

We have hardly done reading over an account of one horrid, mysterious, and shocking crime down East, before we are startled by another. Nothing is sacred from the polluting touch of vice and crime. Still, we had rather not interfere. We trust the wise and good will of Tuesday evening, states that the storm on horts of the wicked and vile. We have few poor people here; so poor as to be compelled to live on poor land; and we don't allow any to starve for want of something to eat. As to the nigger, for whom Thayer & in the Lewis Circuit Court to answer to a charge Co. feel such a hearty sympathy, and for whose benefit these joint stock companies want to epend their cash, he is not poor enough to cultivate poor land. He is too well off to engage ing lines, entitled "The Knight and Maiden," in such unpaying business. It is true, he is said in one of our extreme Western exchanges: to belong to the white man, but a wag of our acquaintance swears that the white man belong to the negro; "for," said he, " the negro has the most important legal claims upon the white man that he can enforce, and that the white man can't enforce upon the negro." As to freedom, a new paper published at Paducah by John the white man does the best he can, and so does | C. Bloom, and sure enough, after four days, when the mysterious corpse had been buried, Miss Col. Tyler, and Geo. McCurdy. Bloom made her appearance, alive and well! The resomblance between Miss B. and the The resomblance between Miss B. and the corpse was, however, very remarkable. We ler, C. Hoke, B. F. Malott, J. Finly, Col. Tyfind it thus traced in the New York Herald: REMARKABLE RESEMBLANCE OF THE CORPSE TO SARAH BLOOM.

The question now became, who was this young femalo bearing such a striking resemb-lance to Sarah Bloom that her own sister, and a number of others, intimately acquainted with her, had sworn positively that it was her. This resemblance was indeed extraordinary. The body had a scar on the left eyebrow, precisely the main finger of the left hand precisely where Sarah has one of the same character; the body has a small black mole about half way between the ankle and the knee, on the shin bone, exactly where Sarah has one; but strangest of all, the body has two toes of the left foot grown together, precisely like Sarah's, except that Sarah's are not grown together so far down on the joint; the toes of both feet of the body, like rah's, were pressed together from wearing tight shoes; and Sarah wears a coral ring on the inger from which, on the corpse, a ring had een stripped. These facts, connected with Sarah's absence, the curious story of Jenkins as to where he had left her, the incident of he oing in a direction where she did not hear of he discovery of the body, and was not herself neard from for four days, combined to make, robably, one of the strongest eases of circumtantial evidence against Jenkins that could be well conceived. We clip the following from the Herald: THE LATEST CLUE AS TO THE IDENTITY OF THE BODY. On Saturday morning, while the town was alive with the excitement of the news that Jane Bloom had identified the body as that of her ister, several less hasty and more thoughtful citizens were attracted by the appearance of an aged creole lady at the Court-house, and beg ing to see the body, and asserting that it was hat of her grand-daughter. An effort was made to procure for her the desired privilege, but so confident were the officials in charge that the body had been fully and unmistakabl indentified, that the request was denied. The inconsolable woman was reluctaut to leave, and ingered near the Court house all day, and, on nday, she followed the funeral procession to the grave, where she exhibited the utmost grief. She was heard to say that she hoped there was no mistake as to the identity, for she had a strong presentiment that the corpse was that of he grand-daughter, who had been missing since Monday last, and who, she feared, had been murdered by a young man with whom she had been intimate. She said her grand-daughter was well dressed, and had a breast-pin similar to the one found near the body. She also said that the under clothes looked much like her grand-daughter's. Yet, in spite of all this, in the excitement of Jane Bloom's identification, the poor woman's story was allowed to go unheeded. But as soon as Sarah Bloom made her appearance, the story began to gain circulation, and soon search was good news to the juveniles. It is said that the knew where, and thus the matter stands. Permade for her. crease, and it was expected that the Town Council at their meeting last night would offer onable length of time, to give a fair opportunity for any new developments. Altogether, the case presents one of the most remarkable instances of mistaken identity, and a striking commentary on the danger of judging hastily on circumstantial evidence.

[Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.] Letter from Garrard County. BUCK CREEK, May 4, 1857.

Messrs. Epirors: You know that Garrard vas once a strong Know-Nothing county, yet the brethren have not, and, I presume, will not. nominate a candidate for the Legislature.

Captain William Wood, an Old-Line Whig and a strong pro-slavery man, who is for the Union and the institutions of the South, has for some time past been a candidate for the Legislature, and it seems that both parties are disposed to unite upon and elect him. Whether this union is brought about from an impression that he cannot be beaten by either party, or that he is a reliable and conservative man, who will prefer the interest of the country to the fortunes of either party, is not altogether certain; but that the one or the other, or both, of these considerations will prevail, I have but little doubt, and Garrard may be set down as certain to send to the next Legislature an Old-Line Whig, in whom the honest of all parties may have the most implicit confidence. J. M. Elliott will be elected without diffiulty, and it is doubtful whether he will have pposition. It is true, Adams would like the ace; but I do not think that the party will take the responsibility of nominating him or any other man.

The Democracy of this district are more united and determined than on any former occasion, while the opposito party are dispirited, irresolute, and dejected. Yours,

THE FULL VOTE OF LOUISVILLE MUST BE POLLED: ATTEND THE DEMOCRATIC MASS MEET ING AT HEADQUARTERS TO-NIGHT AT SEVEN O'CLOCK!

THE GRAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT .- Since th advent of Jenny Lind in this city, we have had nothing in the musical way that has ereated the furore which will characterize the appearance of Thalberg and his great troupe at Mozart Hall this evening. Unmistakably the great piano king of the world, he has those in his train, embracing the charming Patti, the towering and wonderful Parodi, and the gifted and skillful Strakosch-material of itself, even without the great self-attraction, to attract all the musical public of Louisville.

THE CONVENTION OF SOUTHERN BAPTISTS. This association met at the Waluut-street Church, in this city, yesterday morning, and was opened by prayer by Rev. William C. Buck, of Mississippi, late of this city. The attendance is large, one hundred and thirtynine delegates being present, representing all the Southern States. R. B. C. Howell, D. D., of Virginia, was chosen Moderator, and Rev. Wm. C. Crane, of Mississippi, Clerk.

IT It is encouraging to record the fact that there was a large meeting of the friends of temperance at the Hancock-street Presbyteria Church on Thursday evening last. Colonel R H. Buckley, of Henry county, delivered an exeeedingly interesting address, and appropriate resolutions were passed. Every good eitizer has an abiding interest in the success of this temperance reform, and should evince that in terest by fostering the good work.

I A Bracken county boatman, named Mi rauda, met an old enemy in this city on Thurs day, and avenged himself by drubbing him soundly. Treating his heroism subsequently he became excessively drunk, and was found upon the sidewalk in deep slumber. Phonography .- Our talented young friend J. B. Hunter, Esq., will open another class in phonographic short-hand at the Commercial College buildings, over the Post-office, at 11 o'clock on Monday next. The accomplishmen which this simple and beautiful art bestow upon its possessor, and the aptitude of Mr. H. as a teacher, should induce scores to avail themselves of this rare offer.

Mary Enright, whose shortcomings have been the subject of varous police items, was before the City Court yesterday for the iudul gence in an appetite for strong drink. Her husband, who is an honest drayman, has been much embarrassed of late by the waywardness of his wife, and the Judge thought it best to send he to the work-house for a mouth.

The funeral service of the late Mr. T C. Duffey was attended yesterday by a large number of Odd-Fellows and mourning friends He was an active member of the Odd-Feliov and Masonic Orders, and was an ornament to those institutions, and much beloved by those who knew him best.

THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.—The Judicial ommittee of the Privy Council has given its ecision, on the final appeal, in the cases of the urches of St. Barnabas, Pimlico, and St. Paul's, Knightsbridge. This, as we understand t. determines finally the questions in controersy, which related to church ornaments, and the arrangement of chancels for divine worship. The decision turned upon the constructions to e given to sundry rubries and acts of Parlia-

The points decided are as follows: I. Crosses may be used in the interior as well s on the exterior of churches. The large wooden cross in the chancel of St. Barnabas is acordingly permitted to remain.

We would eall the attention of our readers to the establishment of F. Yeiser & Co., Courth street, under National Hotel. They are offering their stock of Watches, Diamonds, Chains, Coral and Cameo Jewelry, &c., at eost, and ten per cent. A glance at their stock is suficient to assure any that their goods are pure, perfect, and fashionable. We recommend their establishment to dealers in their line.

CHILLS AND FEVER .- The tonic known as Quiuine Substitute, and sold by T. A. Hurley f this city, is certainly a remedy of decided nerit. Being composed of potent, yet harmess vegetable ingredients, it bids fair to supersede all other tonies of the day.

We would invite special attention of perons, and especially ladies in want of the richest and newest styles of Faney Dress Goods, and he best brand of Staple Goods, to the stock at the store of G. B. Tabb, earner of Fourth and Market streets. At this house can be found styles of goods not to be found in any other house in the market, which, in point of beauty and clegance, cannot be excelled. Ladies visiting our city will find it greatly to their advan-tage to give this house a call, and examine the arious kinds of goods before making their purhases. His stock of Silk and Lace Mantillas the largest in the city, embracing a variety of ew and desirable styles. His stock of Silks Barege and Grenadine Robes, Embroideries and Lace Goods, cannot be excelled by any Western house. He has also a large and well se eeted stock of Cottonades, heavy Cotton Drills, Plaid Cottons, Osnaburgs, &c., for servants. Call and examine the stock of this house before you make your purchases, and we feel sure i saying that you will be convinced that this is the house to buy good and cheap goods. TELEGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE.

Events and Gossip of Yesterday.

NEW YORK, May 8, P. M. G. Cunningham, son of the accused, testified that Eckel was at breakfast on the morning succeeding the murder, in direct opposition t the statement of young Snodgrass. Helen Cunningham also tastified in the ease, but nothing new was elicited. The court took a recess. The Judge announced that the testi mony on both sides would be finished to night.
Helen Cunningham said she had no knowledge of the way of Burdell's death, or who comm ted the homicide. Augusta Cunningham made a similar statement. The case then closed for defense. The District Attorney said he should not introduce rebutting testimony. The court said they would allow four hours to each counsel to sum up. Adjourned till Saturday.

Washington, May 8-P. M. The Cabinet to-day were almost exclusively ceupied with Kansas affairs, Robt. J. Walker being present several hours. He will take the oath of office as Governor here, before leaving for Kansas, whither he will go on Monday of Tuesday.

The official and private accounts daily received, induce both him and the administration to believe there will be no serious, if any obstruction to the adjustment of the pending dif ficulties of that Territory. Murphy, who recently had a difficulty with

Sickles, has been removed from the Engineership of the Brooklyn navy-yard. DAYTON, O., May 8. A German blacksmith named Henry Salt ise was murdered last night at a groeery kept by Philip Walz. He was set upon by four other Germans, dragged out of the house, and dispatched with bricks and knives. The names of the murderers are George Fisher, John Frother, Martin Ludwick, and Peter Lentz. This makes the second murder in Dayton this week, and, strange to say, the vietims in both eases were blacksmiths. The murderers have been arrested and are now in jail. Boston, May 8-P. M. The Dalton divorce ease was given to the ury this evening. It is doubtful whether they will agree upon a verdiet before to-morrow.

Judge Merrick, who is in ill health, fainted at the close of his charge, and was carried from the court room by the sheriff and others. He soon revived, but is evidently greatly prostrated by the fatigues of a protracted trial and the imsure atmosphere of an over-crowded court-

In the trial of Mrs. Cunningham for the murder of Burdell, this morning, young Snodgras was the principal witness called by the defense He testified that he retired to bed at 11 o'clock and did not hear a particle of noise on the night of the murder, nor did he perceive any offen sive smell in the morning. Nothing important was elieited from the witness.

RICHMOND, May, 7. The drug store of Bennet, Beers, & Frisher was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss estimated at $28,000, on which there is an insur-ance of $20,000 in the Richmond offices. The ouilding was damaged to the amount of $5,000, which was covered by insurance. A portion of the goods was saved.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, PA., May 8. McKim, convicted of the murder of Norcross, was sentenced, this morning, to be hung. He strongly protested before the court his entire mocenee, and asserted that his conviction had been produced unfairly and by perjury.

NASHVILLE, May 8. The medical association adjourned to meet at Washington next year. There was a great ball at the Capitol last night, at which there were 3,000 guests. HALIFAX, May 7.

The Kherson, from Portland, was detained by fog. She arrived at 7 o'clock on Wednesday evening, and sailed at noon to-day for St. Johnand Liverpool. CHICAGO, May 8, P. M. William Wilson, Chief Justice of the Su preme Court of Illinois from 1819 to 1849, died
